

50 channels. 7,558 videos. 9 video formats.

A practical video playbook for immigration lawyers and RCICs.

Built from 179 title and thumbnail examples, with openings, filming blueprints and a brief for your next video.

INSIDE / PLAN YOUR NEXT VIDEO

- 9 filming blueprints: a four-screen sequence for each format.
- Real examples from immigration firms: source videos and our analysis.
- 50-channel rankings + 179-video library: explore the research behind the guide.

Available on studio.visaflo.ca

More than immigration news.

The larger sample adds three useful ways to explain your work. Each starts with a specific problem a viewer can recognise.

07 A process worth mapping

Rashid Ali narrows the topic to international doctors. Published chapters organise the stages; comments ask about routes and personal conditions.

08 A mistake worth checking

Omer Khalil pairs a concrete risk with rule/checklist slides. Viewer comments ask for a simple checklist and a closer look at the facts.

09 A case worth explaining

The Immigration Lounge pairs a refusals-to-approval promise with a client-and-consultant scene. Its description explains the preparation behind the outcome.

18 selected examples concern non-immigration topics such as office humour, lifestyle or celebrations. Reach alone does not show which content brings consultations.

What do your clients ask you?

Start with a question you already answer.
Choose the structure that fits the job.

IF YOU NEED TO...

USE THIS FORMAT

Clarify a circulating claim	01	Rumour reset	04
Answer a specific question	02	Searchable answer	05
Explain an unfamiliar process	03	Everyday analogy	06
Cover recurring questions	04	Numbered FAQ	07
Make a source understandable	05	Document breakdown	08
Help frame a hard decision	06	Decision comparison	09
Untangle a multi-stage process	07	Step-by-step map	10
Prevent a recurring mistake	08	Mistake check	11
Explain the work behind a case	09	Client case breakdown	12

START SMALL

One audience. One useful point. One next step.

Separate the claim from the facts.

Start with the question your clients are seeing in the news.
Show what is confirmed, what is not, and one useful next check.

YOUR VERSION / 60-90 SECONDS TEST

01

Name the claim.

The question clients are asking.

02

Show the source.

Its publisher and date.

03

Mark the unknowns.

Separate facts from interpretation.

04

Give a next check.

One useful action, not a prediction.

OPEN WITH THIS / ORIGINAL VISAFL0 EXAMPLE

“You have seen the headline.
Here is what it confirms, and what it leaves open.”

REFERENCE / DESCRIPTION + FRAMES

KAN Immigration: TR to PR Has Launched?

Presenter + article inserts; description distinguishes uncertainty.
90,605 views / 6:00. Snapshot: 30 Sep 2026.

One question. One useful answer.

Use the question a prospective client would search.

Give the short answer, then the condition that changes it.

YOUR VERSION / 60-120 SECONDS TEST

01	02	03	04
Ask the question.	Give the answer.	Add one example.	Name the next check.
Use the client's own words.	Answer before a long introduction.	Explain the main condition.	What information is needed next?

OPEN WITH THIS / ORIGINAL VISAFLO EXAMPLE

“What should you prepare before a consultation?
Start with the question you need answered.”

REFERENCE / EARLIER CAPTIONS + FRAMES

LMRT: Study in Canada (translated topic)

Arabic topic-led explainer / context / explanation / contact.
240,130 views / 6:50. Snapshot: 30 Sep 2026.

Explain it with an analogy.

Use something familiar to introduce an abstract service.
A distinctive creative option in this study, illustrated by Anyvisa.

YOUR VERSION / 60-90 SECONDS TEST

01	02	03	04
Show the choice.	Connect the parts.	Name the limits.	Show your process.
An everyday situation.	Two or three links to your work.	Where does the comparison stop?	Bring viewers back to reality.

OPEN WITH THIS / ORIGINAL VISAFLO EXAMPLE

“Before you plan a journey, you need to know where you are going.”

REFERENCE / EARLIER CAPTIONS + FRAMES

Anyvisa: Fast Food or Fine Dining?

Food contrast; presenter, restaurant and preparation scenes.
120,302 views / 5:29. Snapshot: 30 Sep 2026.

Three questions. A repeatable series.

Turn repeated questions into a consistent sequence.
Each answer should also work as a short clip on its own.

YOUR VERSION / 90 SECONDS / 3 QUESTIONS TEST

01	02	03	04
Promise three.	Start with question 1.	Repeat the rhythm.	Invite the next one.
One topic. A specific number.	Show the first question quickly.	Question / answer / implication.	Ask for a question or offer a checklist.

OPEN WITH THIS / ORIGINAL VISAFLO EXAMPLE

“Three questions to ask before your consultation.
First: what decision are you trying to make?”

REFERENCE / EARLIER CAPTIONS + FRAMES

Anyvisa: 5 Funny Immigration Questions

Five questions, numbered cards and an invitation for questions.
83,938 views / 10:56. Snapshot: 30 Sep 2026.

Show the source. Explain the point.

Help viewers understand the evidence behind a headline.
Keep one passage and its meaning on screen at a time.

YOUR VERSION / 2-4 MINUTES TEST

01	02	03	04
Name the source.	Highlight one point.	Explain the impact.	Link the original.
Document name, publisher and date.	One passage. One explanation.	Who may be affected? What is uncertain?	Offer one next check and the source URL.

OPEN WITH THIS / ORIGINAL VISAFL0 EXAMPLE

“Before we react to the headline, let us look at the document behind it.”

REFERENCE / EARLIER CAPTIONS + FRAMES

Sahil Sayal: IRCC Explains Changes

Papers and explanation cards support source-led interpretation.
26,408 views / 18:32. Snapshot: 30 Sep 2026.

Two routes. One real decision.

Name the choice a specific audience is trying to make.

Compare the factors that matter, then offer a personal next check.

YOUR VERSION / 90-180 SECONDS TEST

01	02	03	04
Name A and B.	Compare the factors.	Show the trade-off.	Ask a better question.
One audience. Two real options.	Eligibility, stages or timing.	What changes the assessment?	Which facts matter for this person?

OPEN WITH THIS / ORIGINAL VISAFL0 EXAMPLE

“Before you choose a route,
ask which conditions matter for your situation.”

REFERENCE / DESCRIPTION + FRAMES

Marjorie Quintos: Canada PR vs U.S. EB-3

Presenter + comparison slides; description lists decision factors.
8,190 views / 13:39. Snapshot: 30 Sep 2026.

Make the process easy to follow.

Give one audience a map through a confusing process.
Show the sequence before explaining each stage.

YOUR VERSION / 2-4 MINUTES TEST

OPEN WITH THIS / ORIGINAL VISAFL0 EXAMPLE

“The process has several stages.
Here is the map before we work through them.”

REFERENCE / CHAPTERS + FRAMES

Rashid Ali: Licensing for International Doctors

Published chapters map stages; presenter and supporting visuals.
21,737 views / 8:24. Snapshot: 30 Sep 2026.

One small choice. A bigger consequence.

Help viewers spot a misunderstanding before acting on it.
Explain the consequence, the condition and the next verification.

YOUR VERSION / 60-120 SECONDS TEST

01	02	03	04
Name the mistake.	Show the consequence.	Add the condition.	Offer a check.
A repeated misunderstanding.	Make the risk easy to picture.	Avoid an absolute claim without context.	A useful checklist or dated source.

OPEN WITH THIS / ORIGINAL VISAFL0 EXAMPLE

“Before you tick that box, check what it means for the next step.”

REFERENCE / DESCRIPTION + FRAMES

Omer Khalil: Family-Member Sponsorship Risk

Presenter + rule/checklist slides; description qualifies the risk.
52,338 views / 3:20. Snapshot: 30 Sep 2026.

Show the journey. Explain the work.

Turn an outcome into a clear story about the process.

Use a client-approved account or an anonymised teaching example.

YOUR VERSION / 90-180 SECONDS TEST

01	02	03	04
Set the situation.	Explain the obstacle.	Show the work.	Share the outcome.
What was the starting point?	What made this case difficult?	What was reviewed or changed?	Include its limits and one next step.

OPEN WITH THIS / ORIGINAL VISAFL0 EXAMPLE

“The result is only part of this story.
Here is the work that came before it.”

REFERENCE / DESCRIPTION + FRAMES

The Immigration Lounge: After 2 Refusals

Client + consultant; description recounts preparation and outcome.

192,795 views / 4:32. Snapshot: 30 Sep 2026.

Make it for someone.

A programme name can cover very different questions.
Name the person and the decision before writing the title.

International doctors

The description and chapters turn licensing into stages. Comments ask about qualifications, provinces and alternative routes.

Filipinos weighing two routes

A PR-versus-EB-3 comparison uses factor slides. The creator's comment invites a choice; the description links an assessment.

A named language community

A francophone seminar invitation uses event-page inserts and a QR code. The description offers registration or an online consultation.

TRY THIS TITLE

“Before you choose a route as an international doctor, compare these three factors.”

Give the next video one clear job.

Use your own channel to test the formats.
Keep the audience, language and topic comparable.

01 Write the promise

Use one question, one decision or one process. Check that the title, opening and explanation all deliver the same promise.

02 Make the next step useful

A process video can offer a planning checklist. A decision video can offer a worksheet. Ask for one action that fits the video.

03 Read your own results

Use your channel analytics for impressions, click-through rate, watch time and retention. Track checklist downloads or consultation enquiries separately.

04 Make the follow-up

Use recurring questions in your comments and consultations. In this sample, viewers ask for route comparisons, simple checklists and situation-specific explanations.

Public views helped us select examples. They do not reveal retention, paid distribution or consultation conversion. Those need your own analytics.

Make the brief.

Use the question you heard in your last consultation.
Build a one-page brief before you record.

01 / AUDIENCE

Who is this for? What are they trying to decide?

02 / QUESTION + FORMAT

What is their exact question? Which of the nine structures fits?

03 / OPENING

Write the first sentence. Make the question or choice clear.

04 / EVIDENCE + SEQUENCE

Write the points in order. Add source links and dates where needed.

05 / NEXT STEP

Choose one: save the video, get a checklist, or book an assessment.

Bring this brief to VisaFlo Studio.
It gives your next video a question, a structure and a purpose.

Borrow the structure. Bring your expertise.

Click an example to see its original context.

Openings and filming blueprints in this guide are VisaFlo adaptations.

01	Rumour reset	KAN Immigration
02	Searchable answer	LMRT Immigration
03	Everyday analogy	Anyvisa Immigration
04	Numbered FAQ	Anyvisa Immigration
05	Document breakdown	Sahil Sayal
06	Decision comparison	Marjorie Quintos
07	Step-by-step map	Rashid Ali
08	Mistake check	Omer Khalil
09	Client case breakdown	The Immigration Lounge

ALSO IN THE DEEPER SAMPLE

Immiland / Sober Immigration / Canadian Immigration Institute
North Horizon Immigration / Amarjot Singh / and more in the research files.